Cannabis archive is so large that a download manager (add-on) is needed to complete the download.

(download manager with resume download option, or resume all downloads option is needed)

Here are a couple free (add-on) download managers that are able to resume the download:

Mozilla Firefox browser: Download Manager (S3) 3.07

Internet Explorer (I.E.) browser: Enterra Download Manager

If using Firefox to download the archive with Download Manager (S3) 3.07 and the download fails or disconnects:

Look at the very bottom left of the screen, click the green arrow that says “downloads”, hover the cursor over “Download Actions”, and select “Resume All” (repeat as needed until download is completed).

If using I.E. to download the archive with Enterra Download Manager, “open” and/or “save” (save works better for me with the archive) & click “view downloads”.

When the download fails or disconnects: look at the downloads tab or page, find the failed file, and click “Resume”.

Resume the download process after failure and/or disconnection until 100% complete & finished.
